SHOULD it be true that ALEXIS has been recalled from his buffalo hunt, with a view to his early return home, we may conclude there really is some feeling on the part of the Czan that may lead to a suspension of friendly relations between Russia and the United States. It seems the President's brother-in-law, who is American Minister at Copenhagen, has added to the offences of which the Russian Cabinet has to complain by a sian Cabinet has to complain by a roe and Summers—George W. Williams breach of decorum that would have been A. Nelson Campbell and Gordon L. Jor very bad manners in private circles, to say nothing of diplomatic. KRAMER's offenes is aggravated, no doubt, by his near relations to the PRESIDENT. It appears to be considered at St. Petersburg that the President slighted ALEXIS, in not returning his call. It was said some time ago that the Imperial family felt hurt by the PRESIDENT'S attack on CATACAZY in his message to Congress, CATACAZY having been relieved from his duty as Minister and charged with the duty of escorting ALEXIS on his tour through this country It was generally considered in this coun try, too, that the PRESIDENT had done an mly thing, one that placed the Grand Duke in a painfully embarrassing position, and one which com pelled the EMPEROR either to recall relieve CATACAZY of the office of chaperone to which he had was adopted and CATACAZY ordered home. Whatever may be the merits of "CAT-FISH" controversy in itself, and Prince GORTSCHAKOFF advises our State Department that he shall not condemn Mr. CATACAZY on Mr. FISH's repre sentations alone, but will await the statement of the case by the former,) we fear it must be confessed the Russian EMPEROR is not without some ground for a complaint that there has been a very scant courtesy in this matter by the PRESIDENT Russia and the United States has arisen and his distinguished brother-in-law, the therefrom.

SENATE.—Eighteen members present, including the President; decided a quorum. After other business, the rules were suspended and the registration, election, constabulary und printing laws were all repealed.

House.—The repeal bills from the Senate were taken up and passed without a dissenting voice, and the Sepate notified of the fact at 3 o'clock. The repealed acts, as passed by the Senate and House, were presented to the Governor and at once signed.

The Carterifes declare this hasty legis lation a trick. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 15 .- All the absent Senators will return to morrow.

The following is the way the obnoxious bills were repealed: The Senate for several days has lacked only one member to make a quorum. On Sunday Senator Anderson, (a Dem.) arrived in the city, with the previously secured pledge that he was not to be molested. Mr. Ander-son had no intention of attending the ses-sion which met as usual to-day, without a quorum. About an hour afterwards, Gov. Warmoth dispatched a messenger for Mr. Anderson, requesting to see him at his parvate office. The latter responded. After some preliminary conversation, during which most of the Senrtors had entered which most of the Senriors had entered the room, the Governor asked Mr. An-derson what his party demanded. He has told the repeal of all the obnoxious acts that General Warmoth offered to pledge himself to accomplish. After some little discussion and delay the offer was accepted by the Governor. peal of the bill was summarily declined, and hence the legislation which followed in the Senate. Some difficulty was ex-perienced in rushing the bill through the House, but by three o'clock the repeal bill had passed, was signed by the Gov-ernor and only wanted the proper publication to become a law.

Mr Willis, a Methodist, in trying to moralize on the deed, laid bare all the evils that be on the deed, and bare all the evils that was ever did. His sermon throughout was characterized by disreputable and unchristian remarks, and was a surprise to his congregation.

Rev. Mr. Hepworth yesterday preached at Seminary Hall. During his sermon an address was circulated among his congregation announcing the establishment of a new church—that of the Church of the Disciples. Rev. Mr. Clarke, Unite rian, denounced Mr. Henworth, saying that two-thirds of the Unitarian ministers were glad of Mr. Hepworth's departure. It is said that Fish's estate will not amount to more than one hundred thou-sand dollars after the payment of his debts. It is stated also that the Grand Central Hotel presents a bill of $9,500 for the use of the rooms in which Fisk died.

fail to quicken the sentiment of justice, which he now invoked. He declined any sentiment of personal hostility toward those who assailed the Republic, but while willing to be gentle with former enemies, he could not lorget his duty to his fellow-citizens, white and black, who stood by the Republic. There were strong reasons why, the measure of justice to the

THE CUSTOM HOUSE INVESTI-

New York, January 15 .- The custom house investigation continued this morning. A letter was received from Daniel Sheeler, saying that the telegraph operator Culver, of the Surveyor's office, could give information as to the collections of money from inspectors, and also giving information as to the dismissal of employees for not value for the Danace of the Company of the Company for loyees for not voting for the Democratic ndidates.

Mr. Casserly made an unsuccessful at empt to have printed the report of the committee appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury to inquire into the carriage bureau, received and filed by the com-mittee—Senators Stewart and Howe op-

Deputy Collector Clarke testified that Deputy Collector Clarke testified that Dymont & Lally, importers, was the name of the firm where a reputed fraud of $100,000 was compromised by the payment of $50,000. It turned out, he said, that the means of the firm just enabled them to pay $50,000. He also explained the means of investigating frauds in the cartage business, and the difficulties encountered in obtaining clues to the culprits.

The following letter was read: DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,

OFFICE SEC'Y OF TREASURY, WASHINGTON, Oct. 16, 1871. It is desired that you, in connection with the U. S. Attorney, shall, after an opportunity for such explanations as Naylor & Co. may deem it important for them to make crefully exactles the materials. make, carefully consider the merits of the charges of under valuation, and in case they seem to be well founded and the evidence is sufficiently explicit and clear, it is expected that suit will be commenced, but if the evidence shall be of a character in the independent of the character in the independent of the content of the conten character in the judgment of yourself and the U.S. Attorney not likely to warrant the government in expecting recovery before a jury, then it is desired that no saits shall be instituted. I will add that Deputy Collector Clark is acquainted with this matter and the above arrangement made by me on Saturday last. I deem it important to have this business arranged at once, so as to avoid any furthe applications for the intervention of the ourts upon the preliminary proceeding [Signed] E. C. BANFIELD. To Hon. Thos. Murphy, Solicitor of the Treasury.

Witness continued-I understand that Mr. Leet carries on his general order of of business under two names, one Leet & Co., and the other Leet, Stocking & Co. Co., and the other Leet, Stocking & Co. I believe this business is the most perquisite in the gift of the United States Government, and there may have been cases which, after examination by Col. Howe and favorably reported to the Secretary of the Treasury by him. Mr. Jayne, I have again called up for further investigation. Senator Casserly asked witness if he had ever shared in the proceeds of the seizure, as informed in the part he said he had, but that in the same as appeared in the others, his name was not in peared in the others, his name was not in the records. The reason for the omission in these of his name was that the facts having been brought out by a number of informers, of whom he was one. By common consent he was omitted again, and by private arrangement regulated the sums, which each shall receive as his shares. Senator Casserly was not satis-fied with this examination, and he cross examined on the question for half an hour onger with no better result. Geo. H. Vanelett sworn—Was engineer in the navy, but was suspended in Octo-ber, 1870. The first notification of my uspension was a letter written by the President. I went to Washington resident. I went to Washington and saw Com. Daniel Ammon, the official head of the department, who told me head of the department, who told me satisfaction, and no removal could be made without his knowledge. Soon answ, a friend told me that Murphy had obtained from the President an order for my suspension. I telegraphed to Murphy. suspension. I telegraphed to Murphy at Long Branch and called on him next day at the custom house, and he said he got my telegram while with 'the President, whom he asked whether I was to be re-Murphy also said he had been in swer. formed I was opposed to the administra-tion, which I said was false. He said there would be no trouble if I was disposed to work with him, and desired m to call again. I did so, and he spoke of sending delegates to the General Conven tion; and as he lived in the same district that he might name one delegate, I an-other, and a third could be jointly named. I asked him who would be the third man, and he told me. I said we could proba-

and he told me. I said we could probably get along without a contest. He named Mr. Arthur and J. W. Rightmyer, and both refused. He asked me who Mr. Rightmyer would be likely to favor as President. I said Mr. Greeley.

I had no official connection with the Custom House, and Admiral Zand was my commandant. The whole affair was conducted by Murphy, not only on the basis of party politics, but of a party within a party. He told me he had been recently appointed, and that he represented the Administration. As the election of 1870 approached, the number of men of 1870 approached, the number of mer working in the navy yard was increased There was a note sent to me from B Reyn just after my suspension, containing a list; of 75 names, persons whom

Washington, January 12.—The Secretary of War sent a long communication to the House to-day, in answer to its resolution asking for information about the olution asking for information about the suspension of General Balloch, of the Freedmen's Bureau. It is in part a repotition of the report furnished by Secretary Boutwell. The new points are that Balloch gave as a reason for depositing bonds in a private bank that he could more readily get at the coupons when he wanted them. The Secretary of War informed General Howard that Balloch had violated the law. Howard claimed in a letter ted the law. Howard claimed, in a letter to the Secretary, that the interest had been accounted for, and in his opinion there would be no loss. The Secretary of War then sent for Howard and told him it was his duty to relieve Balloch; that the act of Balloch, if not criminal, was of such irregularity as he (the Secretary) could not permit, and if Howard did not relieve him, he would order him to do so. Upon this Howard issued the following order to Balloch:

"SIR:—On account of your appointment to other public duties, as well as for the purpose of giving you time to set-tle your account with the United States Government, you are Lereby relieved as disbursing officer of this Bureau."

Secretary Belknap closes by saying, The matter rests here for the "The matter rests here for the present."
The order of Howard thus brought to light, is severely commented upon a most remarkable, after the Secretary's expressions regarding the character of Bal-loch's act, and as somally insulting to the Secritary. The office referred to, as one to which Balloch was appointed, was Superintendent of Streets under the Dis-trict Government.
